Chief Probation & Parole Officer
Lesley Bubenhofer

MISSION:

The Department of Corrections enhances public safety by controlling and supervising sentenced offenders in a humane, cost efficient manner, consistent with sound correctional principles and constitutional standards.

OBJECTIVES:

- To assist the Circuit Court Judges in making sentencing decisions by providing comprehensive criminal and social history investigative reports (Presentence Reports).
- To provide "A Balanced Approach" to offender supervision through
 - 1) Thorough investigation and assessment of risk and needs;
 - 2) Careful and focused plans of supervision;
 - 3) Use of a wide variety of resources and treatment services; and
 - 4) Purposeful and proportionate application of sanctions for delinquency and non-compliance.

A. PRESENTENCE REPORTS

A Presentence Report is written after a defendant is convicted of a crime but before he or she is sentenced by a judge. The purpose of this report is to provide the judge with a picture of the defendant's life, including prior criminal record and of significant issues such as drug, alcohol or mental health problems. The information helps the judge to determine an appropriate sentence. In order to write the report, the Probation Officer:

- Interviews the defendant in person;
- Interviews others, either in person or by telephone, who might have knowledge of the defendant;
- Verifies information obtained during the interviews;
- Checks for prior criminal history;
- Requests a Victim Statement, if applicable;
- Requests a Restitution Payment Plan, if applicable;
- Prepares a Sentencing Guidelines; and
- Determines substance abuse needs through administration of screening and assessment instruments.

B. SUPERVISION: There is a number of Circuit Court alternative punishment sentencing options (non-residential and residential) for State Responsible Offenders.

1) NON-RESIDENTIAL SENTENCING OPTIONS FOR PROBATIONERS

- a) PROBATION/POST RELEASE SUPERVISION: Offenders are supervised by a Probation Officer under the Conditions of Probation/Post Release Supervision and any Special Conditions ordered by the judge based on the needs of the offender and the risks presented to the community by that offender. The Probation Officer may conduct random urine testing; refer the offender to appropriate treatment, counseling, educational and/or employment services; monitor community service; and/or enforce court ordered restitution and costs payments.

The Conditions of Probation/Post Release Supervision are as follows:

- “1. I will obey all Federal, State, and local laws and ordinances.
- “2. I will report any arrest, including traffic tickets, within 3 days to the Probation and Parole Officer.
- “3. I will maintain regular employment and notify my Probation and Parole Officer promptly of any changes in my employment.
- “4. I will report in person, by telephone, and as otherwise instructed by my Probation and Parole Officer.
- “5. I will permit my Probation and Parole Officer to visit my home and place of employment.
- “6. I will follow my Probation and Parole Officer’s instructions and be truthful, cooperative, and report as instructed.
- “7. I will not use alcoholic beverages to the extent that it disrupts or interferes with my employment or orderly conduct.
- “8. I will not unlawfully use, possess, or distribute controlled substances, or related paraphernalia.
- “9. I will not use, own, possess, transport or carry a firearm.
- “10. I will not change my residence without permission of my Probation and Parole Officer. I will not leave the State of Virginia or travel outside of a designated area without permission of my Probation and Parole Officer.

“11. I will not abscond from supervision. I understand I will be considered an absconder when my whereabouts are no longer known to my supervising officer.”

Special Conditions of supervision may include: Complete treatment or training programs ordered; submit to random urinalysis; pay court costs and restitution; complete community service; and participate in a Department of Corrections' Program.

b) The following programs for offenders are available in Fairfax County:

- 1) RECIDIVIST PREVENTION PROGRAM: This is a Program for non-violent offenders, ages 18 to 25, who are generally first time offenders or who have a limited prior criminal history. Program participation typically lasts 1 year. Offered to Program participants is GED assistance, employment referrals, apprenticeship opportunities, mentor assignment, and biweekly support groups. These offenders receive close supervision from a Probation Officer and are also assigned for monitoring and surveillance and assistance to a Program Support Technician Senior.
- 2) SUBSTANCE ABUSE CASE MANAGEMENT SERVICES: A substance abuse counselor from the Community Services Board's Office of Alcohol and Drug Services is on site in the Main Office two days a week to provide case management services for offenders.
- 3) INTENSIVE PROBATION PROGRAM: This Program provides heightened supervision for high risk/high need offenders. The Probation Officer provides intensive community surveillance through frequent personal, community and family contacts; ongoing, weekly record checks; and close monitoring of behavior. Intensive Supervision Probation Officers are assisted by a Program Support Technician Senior, and caseloads are limited in size in order to allow for maximum effective community surveillance of high risk/high need offenders.
- 4) HOME ELECTRONIC MONITORING PROGRAM (HEM): This Program is available for offenders who require 24 hour a day community supervision, to include strict curfews. Location of the offender is monitored by a transmitter worn by the offender at all times and a field monitor device in the home of the offender. The offender's home must have an operational telephone, without special enhancements. To emphasize responsibility there is a $30 participation fee.
- 5) DAY REPORTING PROGRAM (DRP): There are Day Reporting Programs in Abingdon, Roanoke, Richmond, Fairfax, Norfolk, Newport News/Hampton, Martinsville, Wise and Chesapeake/Suffolk and Harrisburg. Offenders in Fairfax County are placed in the Fairfax DRP in the Route 1 Corridor of the County. This Program offers maximum level non-residential supervision to high risk/high need offenders deemed to be in violation of their supervision status or who are transitioning to the community from institutions or residential programs. Daily contact, itineraries, curfew checks, community service, life skills and offender on-site services are the main components of this Program. Program duration is 3-5 months.

- 6) SEX OFFENDER PILOT PROGRAM: This Program is a sex offender management model with a three pronged approach: Intensive Supervision, treatment and polygraphy.

2. RESIDENTIAL SENTENCING OPTIONS FOR PROBATIONERS:

- a) DIVERSION CENTER INCARCERATION PROGRAM: Diversion Centers are 4 to 6 month residential Programs for male and female non-violent offenders, who would otherwise be sentenced to incarceration or who require more supervision than Intensive Supervision. The Diversion Center participants work in the community at paid jobs. After work hours' programming includes employment counseling, substance abuse education, AA/NA groups, basic educational/GED preparation, parenting and life skills training, anger and stress management, domestic violence counseling (Women's Diversion Center) and community service. There are Women's Diversion Center Programs in Richmond and Chesterfield. There are Men's Diversion Center Programs in Harrisonburg, White Post, Chatham, and Stafford. Offenders are placed on Intensive Supervision upon release from a Diversion Center Incarceration Program.
- b) DETENTION CENTER INCARCERATION PROGRAM: These programs are for non-violent male and female offenders. The program is of 4 to 6 months duration, and provides regimented, highly structured, short term incarceration. Substance abuse education, AA/NA programs, educational assessment, and other programs are available. These offenders are required to work on public projects, while supervised by Correctional Officers. There are three Detention Center Programs for men: Stafford, White Post and Appalachian. There is a Women's Detention Center in Chesterfield. Offenders are placed on Intensive Supervision upon release from the Detention Center Incarceration Program.
- c) YOUTHFUL OFFENDER PROGRAM: This Program is for the penitentiary bound first time male and female offenders who committed an offense before the age of 21. Defendants convicted of a Class 1 Felony or an assaultive misdemeanor offense are not eligible for participation in this Program. The offender must voluntarily agree to participate in the Program. The Program participant is housed separately from the general prison population, and there are educational, substance abuse education, life skills counseling and vocational training components in the Program. The offender may be confined up to a 4 year term including intensive parole supervision of 1.5 years upon release.

Parole was abolished for offenses committed on or after January 1, 1995; however, Probation Officers are also Parole Officers, and provide parole supervision for those offenders released from the penitentiary whose original offenses occurred prior to 1995. Offenders convicted of multiple misdemeanors, whose sentences total 1 year or more are also released on parole.

Probation and Parole Officers assist offenders under supervision to help them make a law-abiding, productive adjustment in the community. They refer offenders to treatment programs. Other referrals and assistance are provided as appropriate to address the needs and risks presented by the offender.

The primary responsibility of the Probation and Parole Officer is public safety, and to protect the citizens of the community by effectively controlling and monitoring the behavior of probationers and parolees. Therefore, if the offender does not follow the Conditions of Probation/Post Release Supervision and/or Parole, it is the Probation and Parole Officer's responsibility to expeditiously report those violations to the judge or the Parole Board. Violations may result in incarceration for all or a portion of the original unserved sentence.
